

Dear _____,
name of person in charge

Please excuse _____ from your name

_____. As you know, we live whatever activity you have no interest in in a world fraught by _____ two or three troublesome things _____, and it is up to _____ two noble adjectives _____ to _____ the _____ suspicious occupations triumphant verb nefarious adjective

_____. As _____ reportedly said, insulting noun well-regarded public figure

"
_____ long, perhaps incomprehensible quote that nevertheless sounds impressive _____", and what kind of _____ would dare _____ while the world animal conflictual verb end of rhetorical question, using language that is both intimidating and wise ?

Not _____, and not I. unexpected person

With all due _____, the word "respect"

Lemony Snicket
cc: LemonySnicketLibrary.com